C. C. SEEKING LOCATION BIG PUBLISHING CO. Making Effort To Get Donahue Co. To Move Plant To Dixon

The M. A. Donahue Publishing Company of Chicago, one of the pioneer printing establishments of that city, will be asked to consider Dixon as a location for a plant which it is planning to establish soon, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee chairman, advisory board and officers last evening. The Donahue Company, employing a large staff of printers, is planning to leave Chicago soon for a new location, it was learned. Niles, Mich., has been considered and members of the firm will be in Dixon next week to meet with members of the local Chamber of Commerce, who will make every effort to induce the publishing firm to locate in Dixon.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce met with city officials today objecting to the improvement of North Peoria Avenue. A protest was entered at last night's meeting which classified the improvement on the north side of the river as being "hazardous and make-shift." This protest was directed against the "elbow curve" at Boyd street and it was voted to send a committee to the city council to protest against the laying out of the improvement in this manner.

Object To Rail Rates. It was announced that a hearing will be held before the members of the Illinois Commerce Commission in Chicago June 2, at which time railroads of the state will ask for a 44 cent freight rate per ton for coal delivered from Illinois mines to Illinois points. President Robert Sterling of the local Chamber together with representatives from the Medina Cement Company, the Reynolds Wire Company and the Borden Company will be present from Dixon to object to the proposed new rate. The Illinois Chamber of Commerce recently solicited several views of historic and scenic points of Dixon and vicinity, which will be used by metropolitan newspapers in a series of articles of automobile tours, it was reported, and a number of fine local views have been supplied for this purpose.

Glassburn On Board. J. L. Glassburn was the unanimous choice of the Chamber members present at the meeting as a member of the board of directors succeeding the late H. U. Bardwell. Mr. Glassburn also gave an interesting report of the Safety Council convention held recently at Madison, Wis., which he attended with a view of securing the 1931 convention for Dixon. Mr. Glassburn stated that Dixon could not accommodate the convention and that next year's meeting had been awarded to Rockford.

The regular monthly discussion relative to the absence of the city's street flusher in the business section, was the subject of considerable debate. It was stated that the city council was considering the purchase of a street sweeping machine and that the present flusher was better suited for the cleaning of streets in the business district, when used. The consensus of those present was that the streets should be washed at regular intervals and between the hours of midnight and 5 o'clock in the morning when they would be free of parked automobiles.

It was unanimously voted to discontinue the meetings during the months of June and July.

To be 1250 Miles Long and Will Cost Builders Forty Million

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—The Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company announced today that contracts have been let for immediate construction of a $40,000,000 natural gas pipe line to transport gas from the Texas panhandle field to industrial communities of Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

The National Supply Company of Toledo, O., has been given orders for $25,000,000 worth of pipe and other materials for the line, which will extend 1,250 miles long, running from Texas to Indiana via Kansas City, Springfield, Ill., Terre Haute and Indianapolis. The line will connect with the Missouri-Kansas Company's Kentucky pipe line system near Evansville, Ind.

Frank P. Parish, president of Missouri-Kansas, said the Illinois Power & Light Corporation and the Missouri Power & Light Company, subsidiaries of the North American Light & Power Co., have contracted with the Panhandle Eastern Company, subsidiary of Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Co., for the purchase of natural gas for all the cities in Illinois and Missouri which they now serve with artificial gas.

Financing has been arranged and construction already has begun at two points in Texas and Missouri. The construction will provide work for several thousand men and will be completed by Dec. 1.

The main line artery, officials said, will enter Illinois from Missouri at Louisiana and run almost due north to a point south of Springfield. From there the line will be constructed in an easterly direction, south of Decatur, Champaign, Danville and thence to Indianapolis.

In addition to the main line laterals will be constructed to furnish natural gas to almost every city in the state, officials said.

TURNER AGAIN SEEKS RECORD FOR LONG TRIP Takes Off on One-Stop Flight Across The United States

BULLETIN Wichita, Kans., May 27.—(AP)—Lieutenant Col. Roscoe Turner brought his monoplane down at the Wichita municipal airport at 12:45 P. M., today for a brief refueling pause before continuing his one-stop transcontinental dash from New York to Los Angeles. He arrived here nine hours and forty-two minutes after his take-off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., at 3:03:40 A. M. (C. S. T.)

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 27.—(AP)—Accompanied by Gilmore, his lion cub mascot, Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner took off at 4:03:40 A. M. (E. S. T.) today on a one-stop flight to Los Angeles in an attempt to establish a new speed record from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The non-stop east-to-west record is 19 hours, 10 minutes, and 32 seconds, established by Captain Frank Hawks. There is no present official east-to-west one-stop record. Turner said he probably would make his stop at Wichita, Kansas.

He took off in the same plane in which he recently failed to break the west-to-east one stop record made by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The plane has a 525 horsepower motor, 100 more than the Lindbergh plane. He carried 450 gallons of gasoline and 25 gallons of oil.

He said he expected to make another attempt shortly to lower the west-to-east record and that his plane on that flight would be equipped with a radio-telephone receiving and sending outfit.

COLISEUM IN PACKINGTOWN IS DESTROYED

Most of Dead and Hurt Caught Under Falling Walls

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 27.—(UP)—Flames swept the stockyards Coliseum today, taking a toll of human life and leaving the auditorium in ruins where Alfred E. Smith two years ago sounded his famous keynote for religious tolerance.

Preliminary hospital reports said the fire and crashing walls killed 10 persons and injured 12.

The walls of the auditorium crashed soon after the fire was discovered.

Most of the deaths and injuries resulted when crowds pressed forward to see the spectacle and were caught by the falling walls.

Crowds Hamper Firemen

Firemen fought to check the flames in the auditorium and keep them from spreading to nearby packing houses and at the same time were hard to put to keep the crowds back.

Several persons fighting to salvage parts of automobiles in the annex were trapped by the collapse of a wall.

The auditorium is in the center of the packing house district, known as Packingtown. The flames leaping from the coliseum threatened to spread and endanger the surrounding plants.

The blaze started in a corner of the building near the opening of a large sawdust covered arena.

The usual number of workmen and equipment was in the building but large crowds gathered when clouds of smoke started from the center of the building. As the flames neared the annex where 200 new automobiles were stored, volunteers rushed into the building in an attempt to save the automobiles.

Caught Under Walls

The first group of victims was caught in the annex. A wall crashed on the firemen and volunteers, killing several and imprisoning the rest. A series of explosions shook the building as the fire reached the tanks of the automobiles.

J. E. Brown, a stockman, said he saw a wall fall on 10 men, at least one of whom was killed.

Four men, with chests crushed, were dragged from the ruins as firemen peered through the piles of debris for other possible victims.

Dick Mason, a fireman, was burned to death when he was caught in burning debris.

A boy, not identified, was said to have died in the flames while helping A. F. Johnson, a railroad employee, to salvage an automobile. Johnson said a collapsing wall caught the youth.

Ernie Bell, fireman, escaped death when companions pulled him from under a buckling wall.

The building was destroyed with a loss of probably more than $300,000.

The building was built in 1920. Cause of the blaze which started suddenly and swept the entire building within the period of an hour, was still undetermined.

Check Shows Bank Loot Over $220,000

St. Louis, May 27.—(AP)—The loss in the Grand National Bank burglary Sunday morning was lifted to $220,000 today by tabulations submitted by the bank and six of its customers whose safe deposit boxes were looted. This includes cash, bonds and jewelry.

The total, police said, probably will be increased as estimates of losses are obtained from 23 other customers whose boxes were robbed. The robbers, believed by police to have entered the bank with a duplicate key, broke open 91 compartments in the safe deposit vault, thirty-three of which were in use. Three to five men are believed to have participated in the burglary, binding and gagging two bank employees.

WORLD'S HIGHEST PRICED CLOWN

KENNETH WAITE

Director of the fun-makers of Robbins Brothers Circus, which is in Dixon today, Waite has the reputation of being the highest-salaried fun maker in the circus world and the clowns under his direction are all dressed up in clown costumes imported from Europe and their walking arounds, their songs, their pantomime and their gesticulations all furnish plenty of laughs to the young and old who witness them go through their peculiar antics. They come in droves in the ring between the acts and even during the performance of some feature act of which gives the audience the kind of entertainment that it looks forward to with unmitigated pleasure.

FIRST CIRCUS OF SEASON IN DIXON TODAY; DRAWS CROWDS DESPITE THREATENING SKIES

Robbins Bros. Circus Arrived Early This Morning For Show

The first circus of the season is here today.

The Robbins Bros. Show which delighted two big crowds two years ago is making a Dixon visit today.

No need to call the juvenile population twice for breakfast this morning. Long before sun up they were up and out of the house speeding down to the freight yards to watch the showmen roll the heavy wagons off the long steel flat cars and get a chance to earn a ticket by carrying water for the elephants.

In this time honored occupation they were disappointed. Modern circuses have discarded the old fashioned methods. The thirteen big pachyderms and two little babies were marched over to a nearby hydrant where they emptied several tanks of water and led a bystander to remark, "Gee, they must have fed these elephants salted peanuts yesterday."

An Enlarged Show

Since its last appearance here the Robbins Bros. circus has been enlarged by the addition of five cars, the seating capacity has been increased to 9000 and the menagerie now consists of more than 20 cages of wild animals, 12 camels and 13 elephants. The Robbins Bros. are featuring this season the Hobson Family of famous barbeck somersault riders as thrillers. The big show program is opened this season with a new, novel, spectacular production from the pen of Equestrian Director Bert Rickman entitled, "Mother Goose in Fairyland" in which over 450 people and 20 animals take part.

The big tents are located on the west end show grounds and all were up and ready long before the parade hour. Meanwhile the crowd had gathered along the streets till the sidewalks overflowed and there was a long line of waiting thousands of wild more and more impatient as the time passed. The parade made its appearance about 12 o'clock headed by a big red, white, blue, and gold band wagon with 20 musicians playing stirring martial music atop. Open dens followed, all left open so that the crowd could gaze upon the ferocious looking lions, leopards, tigers, pumas, and other denizens of the jungle. Mounted ladies and gentlemen riders, handsomely gowned attracted more than passing attention, and the kids danced with delight as a wagon load of clowns went by making music on a variety of instruments. The cowboys and cowgirls were viewed with unusual interest by the kids, and their appearance brought memories of Buffalo Bill and Custer's last fight. They were booed and spurred, and

SIXTY DEAD IN RANGOON AFTER RIOT

Reports of Serious Disorder In Other Provinces of Empire

BULLETIN. Lucknow, British India, May 27.—(AP)—Four persons were reported killed and thirty injured in rioting here today.

Fourteen policemen have been taken to a hospital.

Lucknow, a city of 240,568, has a large cantonment for troops of all arms. It is the headquarters of the Indian army and shares with Allahabad the headquarters of the government of the United Provinces. It is the seat of the chief post of Oudh and the provincial legislature.

Rangoon, India, May 27.—(AP)—Sixty deaths were reported, officially tonight in two days of disorders attending a dock strike in this Burman capital.

Many more are believed to have been killed in the rioting between Burmese coolies and Hindus, with whom the police have been battling unrelentingly since yesterday morning.

The streets tonight were deserted except for police and the contending factions.

Fired Into Crowd. The rioters were armed with iron bars, sticks and daggers.

The situation was so bad that police on several occasions were obliged to fire into the mass.

The populace was thrown into terror by the rioting and remained indoors, afraid to venture forth even for food; and the problem of feeding the terror-stricken thousands this evening became acute.

Military forces were stationed at all entrances to the city today to prevent an influx of those who might wish to take sides in the fighting.

The gloom of a beleaguered city descended this evening upon the capital. The rioting, originally confined within a small area along the waterfront, gradually had forced itself upon other zones.

Heaps of building materials with which many structures were being repaired after the recent earthquake provided the rioters with an ample supply of ammunition and barricades to carry on their assaults.

TWO EXPLOSIONS INJURED COUPLE, CAUSED DAMAGE

No Clue To Cause For Chicago Bombings Discovered

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—Bomb explosions early today shook the northwest and south sides, caused serious injuries to two persons and did several thousand dollars damage. Rude Rasmussen, 69, and his wife, Minnie, 61, were treated at a hospital for cuts and bruises after a powerful dynamite bomb wrecked the entrance to a two story building. They were thrown from their bed in a room just above the vestibule and the bed was rent by the force of the explosion.

John Galadak, owner of the building, lived on the second floor with his five young children and a housekeeper. They also were tossed from their beds and showered with falling plaster, but none was injured. He estimated the damage at $15,000.

Neither Rasmussen nor Galadak could give police any clue to the cause of the bombing. Police learned Galadak and his wife had been divorced six months ago. They questioned her at the house of her parents but she could give no information.

The drug store of Chris Barone on the edge of Chicago's Chinatown was the target of a black powder bomb which caused $300 damage and threw two families living on the second floor from their beds. Barone told police he knew of no reason for the attack.

Memorial Service For Charles Barge

Officer Slain In

Chicago Speakeasy

Chicago, May 27—(UP)—A dozen half-empty beer steins on the bar in a north side speakeasy indicated that as many persons witnessed the slaying early today of Policeman John McDonald, 35, who had gone there after he was off duty.

When a squad of police entered the barroom they found it dark and deserted except for McDonald, who lay dying on the floor. He still clutched his revolver, from which he had fired one shot.

Besides the beer steins, other mementoes that a crowd had been in the place when McDonald was shot included men's hats and coats and a pair of woman's gloves.

By all means do not delay. You should investigate the Dixon Telegraph's Accident Insurance Policy. Cost $1.25 for a protection of $1,000 for 1 year.

Where Engineer Gave Life Trying Not to Hit Auto

A determination never to drive his locomotive into an automobile at a crossing cost three lives and endangered scores of passengers when "Bud" Ford, engineer, locked the brakes of a crack Illinois Central flyer, wrecking the train as pictured here in a vain attempt to avoid striking a stalled coupe near Tangipahoa, La. The auto was hurled 40 yards, killing the driver, and the engine overturned killing Ford and his fireman. Four cars were derailed and six passengers hurt.

How R-100 Will Look on North American Soil

This composite photograph shows how Great Britain's air goliath, the dirigible R-100, will look moored to the recently erected mast at St. Hubert's Airport, Montreal, Canada, if it successfully completes its projected voyage from England. The tall tower was built especially to receive the palatial air liner—largest in the world—which may be put into regular trans-Atlantic service after its maiden visit to this continent. Two Canadian government radio announcers will be stationed atop the mooring tower to broadcast a description of the huge airship's arrival.

KING GEORGE IS SICK: WILL NOT ATTEND COURTSInflammation Of His Right Hip To Keep
Monarch Away

London, May 27—(AP)—Illness of King George will prevent his attending the third court of the season to be held tonight at Buckingham Palace, it was officially announced today.

It was said His Majesty was suffering from inflammation of the right hip. On May 14 and May 15 he presided at the first two courts of the season, the first he had attended in two years due to his previous illness.

The Prince of Wales deputized for him during the preceding season.

His serious illness of the winter of 1928 and 1929 was a bronchial pneumonia with subsequent pulmonary developments which necessitated the draining of a lung abscess and other delicate and hazardous treatment.

Eight American girls are to be presented at tonight's court and were to have met the King who is 64 years old. Six other American girls and women are to be presented tomorrow evening at the fourth and last court of the season.

The following announcement was issued at Buckingham Palace:

"For some days past the King has been suffering from a painful although localized rheumatism of the right hip. His Majesty has been advised not to be present at the courts tonight and tomorrow, but hopes to be able to fulfill his engagements later in the week."

Not-So-Poor Butterfly

Hizi Koyke, petite daughter of a Japanese samurai, arrived from Tokio a few years ago to study folk songs at Columbia University, New York, intending to return home as a teacher. Instead, she finds herself today one of the stars of the Philadelphia Opera Company; she has just closed her third season with the Cincinnati Opera group and expects to be with the Chicago Grand Operatics next winter. Her role, of course, has been "Choo-Cho San" in "Mme. Butterfly." She has sung it more than 50 times.

FIRST OF MAY
BENEATH the window of the world
I heard a silver cry:
"I have lovely things for sale,
Oh, come down and buy!"
Then I leaned from my casement
Out into the blue;
There went one, selling
A strange thing or two

He had floating from his shoulders,
Like a bright balloon,
A last-of-April sunset,
And a first-of-May moon.
I heard him sing an old song
And I heard him say:
"Come, buy my beautiful
First day of May!"

He had a peddler's push-cart
Heaped with orange-gold,
And children crowding round it,
Lovely to behold.
Then I saw a Maypole
With Child-Joy for center;
Any childlike one at all
The merry game could enter

Some danced in new silk
And some danced tattered
As if to joy of children
Such a thing mattered!
Like Mayflowers in crannies,
I cannot forget
Some were dancing grannies
Whose hearts were young yet.

"They were all children
In those May-day hours;
They were all good-hearted,
And they all tossed flowers
When anyone is dancing
Round the pink May-thorn,
His heart becomes as innocent
As the day that he was born."

"The world wants a Maypole
With Child-Joy to stand,
With all dancing round him
In circles, hand in hand.
The birds will all be singing
When earth's bells are ringing
For the first day of May."
—Isabel Fiske Conant.

Mrs. Swan sent her husband to his club here and told him not to come home for a week.

Marion Graf, our teacher, has been retained for next year.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Moth Protection—Watch out for moths in spring! Wash or clean all woollens, air in sun thoroughly, and pack away everything you do not need in air-tight moth bags, in cedar chests or in newspapers, with the ends sealed.

Spring Flowers—One or two daffodils or other spring flowers should be considered a necessary household decoration in spring. Cut the stems under water and they will keep fresh much longer.

Kitchen Revolution—Spring is the time of year to resolutely throw out all pots and pans that are dented, cracked, burned and chipped. Buy yourself a new lot of up-to-date, pretty kitchen equipment. It will not break the house and it will cheer up your kitchen work immensely.

Spring Touch—Spring is the time to color up your kitchen colorfully. If you do not want to paint your pantry shelves and your table and chairs, you can at least hang up colorful cool curtains. And there are colored oilcloth shelf papers that add a bright note.

Dainty Desserts—As days grow warmer, dainty chilled desserts are more appetizing than hot puddings and pies. Berry whips are lovely. Beat up a box of hulled and washed berries with two whites of eggs and sweeten when stiff. Chill in the refrigerator and serve either with a dash of whipped cream or a whole berry on top.

Date Food—Cook figs, dates or raisins with your cereal about twice a week and you will notice how the children consume their portions clear to the last spoonful.

Picture Arrangement—It is considered smart wall decoration now to arrange four small pictures alongside each other over a table or desk. Frame them in very narrow frames, perhaps using the lacquer red or Nile green of your color scheme. Little etchings from abroad are good used this way.

Spring Appetites—If the children are refusing cooked cereals, give them uncooked one dressed up with a little fresh fruit such as a few strawberries. Their color appeals to the appetite and makes the child eat.

Green Peas—If you want your green peas their own perfect color when done, add a little bit of soda to the water in which they are cooked.

Colored Shoes—How to shine colored shoes is often a problem. Before being worn they should be cleaned with colored cream polish and after each wearing this should be repeated.

Neither the bride or bridegroom were injured, and the car was damaged very slightly. After the wedding ceremony, they returned to Rockford.

What Paris is Wearing

By K. D'ORSAY

PARIS—The big diamond stick-pin, relic of days of early Alaskan prosperity, is one of the fashions to be "discovered" by Paris women. Bigger and better than ever, it appears in Paris, not pinned to cravats, but worn in the feminine manner—as a shoulder brooch, on the tab of a lacy collar and tucked into the brim of a floppy hat.

Paris sets these diamonds in any way that will enhance their size. They are put high on a series of prongs, like a ring, or sunk deep into a square of black onyx. They are always worn as solitaires; where two diamonds are used, they are set separately, in two pins worn close together.

The stick-pin idea is evidently a new one to Paris, for it is worn in the most naive manner, with a generous portion of the pin's shaft in evidence. Note how the two immense diamonds are fastened into the brim of this new Paris hat.

NO REASON FOR ALARM.

Now that the London naval treaty is being put under the senatorial microscope, certain easily-worried Americans are wondering audibly if Uncle Sam, once more, has not sat in at a conference where scheming foreigners took advantage of his innocence and made off with his last shirt.

It was to be expected that the arrangement between America and England would be closely scrutinized. The fear of England, apparently, like the poor, is always with us —or at least is always with some of our super patriots.

But now it is being charged that the Japanese have hoodwinked us too. The Japanese got their cruiser ratio raised, and at least two influential senators are beginning to wonder if this should not be viewed with the traditional senatorial alarm.

Perhaps the best answer that can be made comes from Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson. Read what he had to say to the Senate Naval Committee:

"There was this situation in cruisers. We had two eight-inch cruisers in the water, one nearly ready for launching and five on which a certain amount of construction had been done. Whatever else was done had been merely begun, but there were two in the water. Japan had eight eight-inch cruisers in the water and four more which were very much nearer completion than any of ours, making 12 in all. In six-inch cruisers she had 98,000 tons where we had only 70, 000 tons.

"Our problem was to ask Japan to stay still for 6 years and let us build past her until we had 15 cruisers of the eight-inch class in the water to her 12, and three more so closely finished that all of them would be completed in the year 1936. In respect of the six-inch cruisers, we had to ask her to stand still at an increase of only 2000 tons, bringing her from her present 98,000 tons to only 100,000 tons, which the treaty gives her, while we built past her from 70,000 tons to 143,000 tons.

"I speak deliberately when I say that the Japanese delegation, and the Japanese government which confirmed the action of the Japanese delegation, had a harder problem and solved it with a greater faith in the Pacific relations of the three great powers, than any other nation at the conference."

There's one more bit of testimony to add to this. Admiral William V. Pratt, commanding the U. S. fleet, told the senators this:

"It suits me. I say that, realizing that if any fighting comes off now I will have to do it."

All in all, it seems almighty hard to work up much uneasiness about the situation in respect to Japan. The Japanese war bogey seems to be dying quite rapidly. Why not let it die, forever, and see that it is given a good burial?

CONCERNING MR. CAGLE.

Christian Cagle, football player, spends four years at the U. S. Military Academy, presumably with the intention of becoming an officer in the U. S. army. As his graduation approaches he wishes to resign so that he can become a combination football coach and bond salesman.

Permission is refused him. Thereupon it is discovered that he has been married, in violation of regulations. Thus he gets his wish and is cut loose from the army automatically, and is free to go ahead with his plans.

This young man has roused our high admiration as an athlete; but somehow this transaction leaves a terrible taste in our mouths. The country has spent rather more than $4000 on Cagle's education, and he put himself under a bond of honor to repay this generosity by serving as an army officer.
It becomes evident, now, that it was football and not a military life that chiefly interested him. The affair reflects very little credit on the famous football player.

A man is riding on a bull from a Texas town to New York.
On his way to the stock market, no doubt.

Then there was the Chicago grocer who was so naive that he thought a pineapple was something you ate.

Even though crime is said to be on wane in Chicago, columnists have reasons to be grateful for this much.

"More guns ordered as men howl." Headline over Ohio

The United States has 49 per cent of the world's telephone proach of his 150th birthday?

If the prediction comes true, we should like to be around

"Oh, my," cried Clowny. "What a sight. That whale is mighty big, all right. But what's it doing up on shore? It should be in the sea! It surely cannot swim around when it is up on solid ground." This made the whole bunch laugh. The thought was funny as could be.

"Of course it can't," wee Scouty said. "Once more, you fail to use your head. The fisherman will tell us why the whale is way up here."
"You bet I will," replied the man.
"At least I'll tell as best I can. Don't be afraid of Mister Whale. There's not a thing to fear."

"From whales we get a lot of things and each whale heaps of money brings. We even get fine butter and good margarine to eat.
We have a process now, you see, that hardens whale oil. Mersey me, when it's brought forth as butter it is really quite a treat."

They listened to a whole lot more and then knew what the whales were for. The Travel Man soon said, "I guess we'd best be on our way. We've seen some interesting fish and now, my lads, I frankly wish that we could soon find something else to finish up the day."

"They slowly backed back into town and as the whole bunch looked around, one of the Tynmites jumped up in the air and loudly cried, 'Oh, look! A queer cat's right nearby.
It's something I would like to try.'"
"All right," replied the Travel Man.
"We all will take a ride."

They went up to the man, who said, "You want to ride? Well, go ahead and hop right in. I'm sure that you'll enjoy it. Bless my soul," The Tynmites all spread a grin and very promptly hopped right in. The Travel Man then told them they were in a cariole.

in the next story.)

Bass Pleads Guilty
To Murder In Court

Bentonville, Ark., May 26—(AP)— Dr. Andrew J. Bass, 55, former wealthy dentist of Columbia, Mo., charged with killing his co-con-spirator in a $200,000 insurance fraud plot, William R. Pearman, Columbia garage mechanic, brought his murder trial to a sudden end here today with a plea of guilty that carried with it a sentence of life imprisonment by agreement of counsel.

Dr. Bass entered his plea at the special term of Circuit Court this morning upon the advice of his counsel, Boyle G. Clark and J. R.
Boogs of Columbia, and John R.
Duty of Rogers, who in a statement said they considered him insane and dangerous to society and asked that he be taken to the penitentiary at Little Rock immediately.

Whether he should later be committed to an insane asylum, they added, should be left to the judgment of Arkansas officials.
Prosecution and defense counsel agreed to a sentence of life imprisonment for the crime.

SHARP CONFLICT OF OPINION OVER COURT'S DECISION

Disagreement Concerns
Seeking Law Making
Rum Buyer Guilty

Washington, May 27—(AP)—A sharp conflict of opinion among the dry leaders of the Senate was produced today by the Supreme Court's decision declaring the purchaser of bootleg liquor ordinarily immune from prosecution.

The disagreement concerned the advisability of seeking the early enactment of legislation to make the liquor buyer punishable under the prohibition laws. Senator Sheppard of Texas urged that such action be undertaken. Senator Jones of Washington expressed an opposite view.

Sheppard was co-author of the Eighteenth Amendment. Early in the present session he introduced a bill to make the seller and purchaser of illicit liquor equally liable to punishment. Jones is the author of the famous "Five and Ten Law" providing severe maximum penalties for violations of the dry statutes.

Meanwhile a series of three bills, intended to improve prohibition enforcement, principally through the relief of congested federal court dockets, bore the approval of the House Judiciary Committee. With several modifications, the program followed the general outline of the plan proposed by the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission.

Chairman Graham was instructed to seek early consideration of the bills by the House together with measures, previously approved, to authorize the appointment of seventeen additional federal judges. The later also are intended to relieve congestion in the courts.

The Supreme Court's decision, rendered yesterday, said that unless the question of illegal transportation and possession is involved, the purchaser of bootleg liquor is not liable to prosecution. The court held that Congress had "deliberately and designedly omitted to impose upon the purchaser of liquor for beverage purposes any criminal liability."

Two Members Of Well Known Family Praise Kavatore

"Never Saw Its Equal for Quick Work in Cases Such as Mine," Says Grateful Galesburg Resident.

W. H. BARLOW.

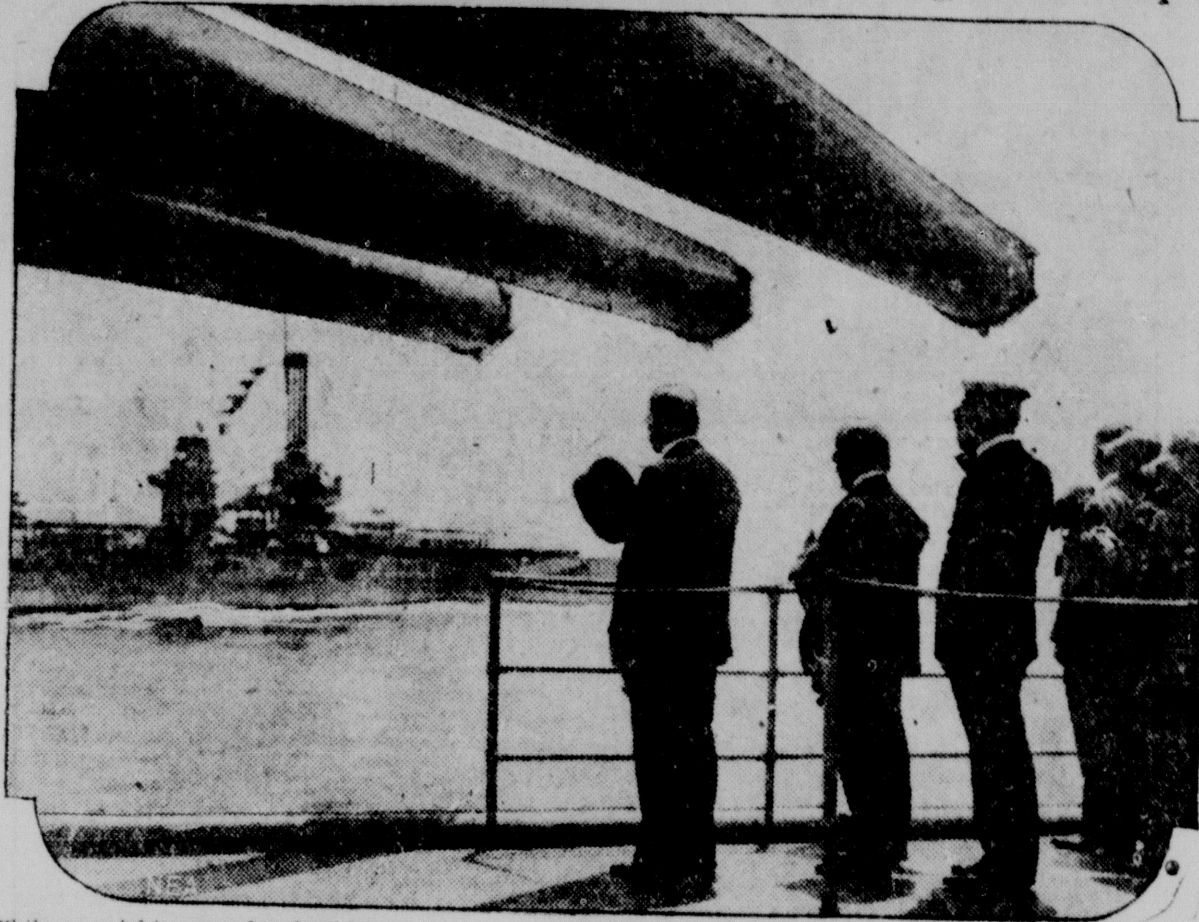

"For a long time I have been bothered with a bad stomach condition," said W. H. Barlow, 12 Chestnut street, Galesburg, Ill. "After eating I would have terrible gas and bloating pains, and pains in the region of my heart. I finally became so bad that I could hardly eat. My little son, aged 5, was also in a rundown condition because of constipation. This also worried me, until I was nearly a nervous wreck.

"Through friends we heard of cases where Kavatore had worked seeming miracles and we decided to try it. After taking one bottle, my appetite was much better and I noticed the food did not hurt my stomach. I was feeling much better. So I gave Kavatore to my son, too, and he is now feeling fine."

Many people write and tell of blessed relief from such agonizing ailments as neuritis, rheumatism, stomach trouble, liver and kidney trouble, nervousness, etc.

Kavatore is sold by all the best druggists in Dixon and in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

AVIATRIX LOOPS LOOP 980 TIMES TO SET RECORD

Laura Ingalls Nearly Tripled Her Former Loop Mark

Muskogee, Okla., May 27—(AP)—Miss Laura Ingalls, 25-year-old New Yorker who received her first flying lesson eighteen months ago, today had written 989 consecutive inside loops in the sky above Hatbox Municipal airport here, nearly triple her own feminine world's record.

Averaging about 4 1/2 loops for every minute she was in the air at the airport's dedication late yesterday, Miss Ingalls exceeded by 636 loops the women's record of 344 she established May 3 at Lambert Field in St. Louis.

"Isn't it bully, that motor, that trip?" she asked Army officers who protected her from the enthusiastic crowd as she landed. She leaped from her plane, obtained a drink of water and was carried on the shoulders of a throng to her motor car, when anyone exceeds her record, she said she'd try again.

She was $1,036 richer in quaranties and prizes because of her flight. She said it was the first money she had ever made in the air.

Her thrilling loops climaxed the port's dedication program in which 200 Army and civilian planes and the Army dirigible TC-11 from Scott Field, Ill., participated.

EXTRA SESSION FOR DEBATE ON LONDON TREATY

Program Decided On By President And Party Leaders

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—The London naval treaty is to be taken up by the Senate at a special session to be called by President Hoover probably about the middle of next month.

In the meanwhile, it is planned that Congress finish its other work and adjourn, with the Chief Executive immediately calling the Senate back into session to dispose of the arms limitation pact. This course has the approval of Mr. Hoover and of the majority leaders of both houses of Congress.

The program was worked out in a series of conferences ending in an announcement late yesterday of what had been accomplished.

Spokesmen for the House were reluctant to discuss a date for adjournment while Veterans and Rivers and Harbors legislation are pending in the Senate. However, the Republican steering committee gave assurance these measures would be accorded the right of way.

Opposition to the program was voiced by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, a severe critic of the treaty. He protested against what he called "rushing" the pact through.

The Foreign Relations and Naval committees today continued their hearings on the treaty, summoning ranking officers of the Navy to give their views on the pact.

NIGHT JOYRIDE IN PLANE ENDS IN FATALITIES

Three Occupants Met Horrible Death In Crash At Tulsa

Tulsa, Okla., May 27.—(UP)—A night joyride in an airplane over Tulsa resulted early today in death for a 28-year-old woman passenger and her two men companions when their airplane crashed on Garland airport from a low altitude and burned.

Those killed were Miss Erna Ball, Tulsa; J. Bushboom, Sedalia, Mo., owner of the plane, and R. W. Hammonds, pilot.

Hammonds apparently lost control of the airplane as he brought it to a landing. It fell about 300 feet and burst into flames, burning the occupants as they lay pinned under the wreckage.

The fire was so hot the airport attendants were unable to approach for half an hour. By that time the bodies were so burned identification was difficult.

Airport attendants said they did not witness the crash. They heard the drone of the motor when the ship apparently was near the ground. The crash and explosion followed.

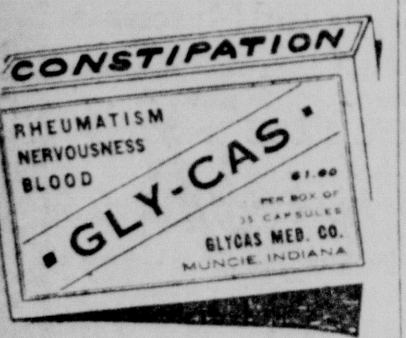

Bushboom came here yesterday and planned a night ride over the city for Miss Ball.

UP OUT OF BED IN WEEK; GLY-CAS IS AMAZING TO HER

Every Joint and Muscle in Body Racked With Awful Misery of Rheumatism Before Taking Gly-Cas.

"Surely no one knows better than I the merit of Gly-Cas, it is wonderful," said Mrs. Martha Payne, respected lady of Middleton, Ohio, who lives at 1809 Manchester Ave., that city.

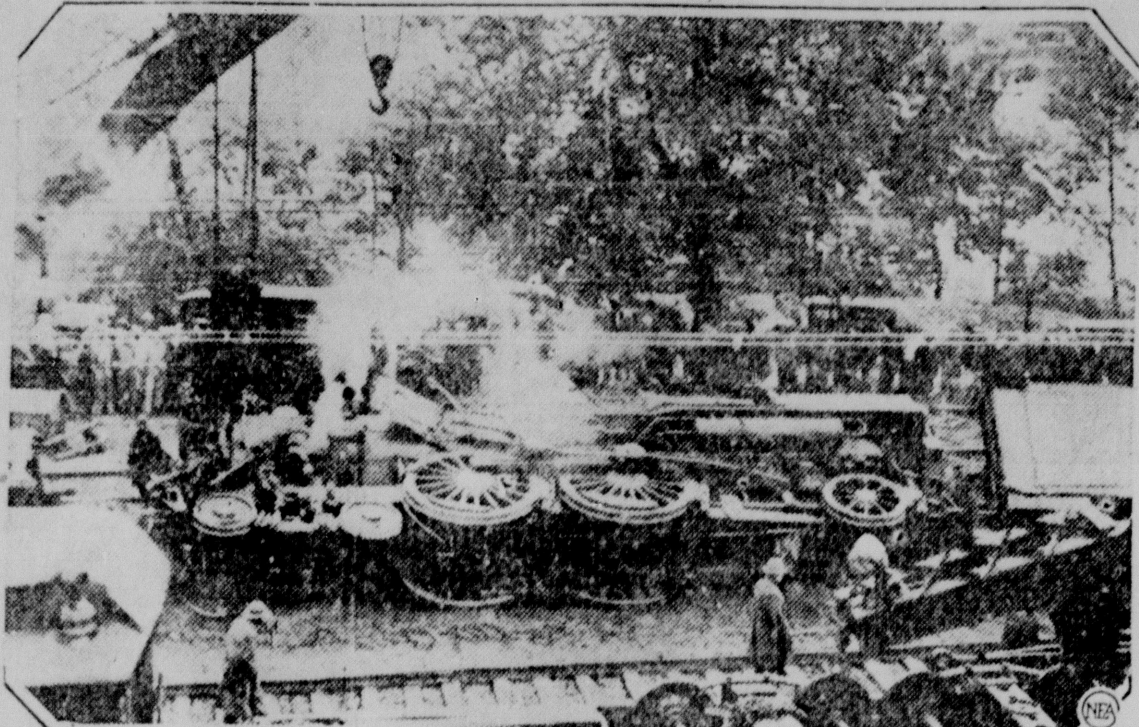

THE GLY-CAS BOX.

"For the past three years I have been a dreadful sufferer of rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and limbs and all over by body," she continues. "At times it was so severe I would be flat on my back with the pain. Just recently I took the flu and it brought on a bad attack of rheumatism. I was down in bed for nearly three weeks I could not move a muscle but what the pain was almost unbearable. I heard of Gly-Cas and decided to give it a chance on my case and it did wonders for me. In just four days after I began taking it I began to show improvement and could sit up. Two days later I was out of bed and in two weeks I was back to my work, that is how it worked for my stubborn case. Gly-Cas brought me through such terrible misery that I want all others suffering the way I did to know of it and benefit from it."

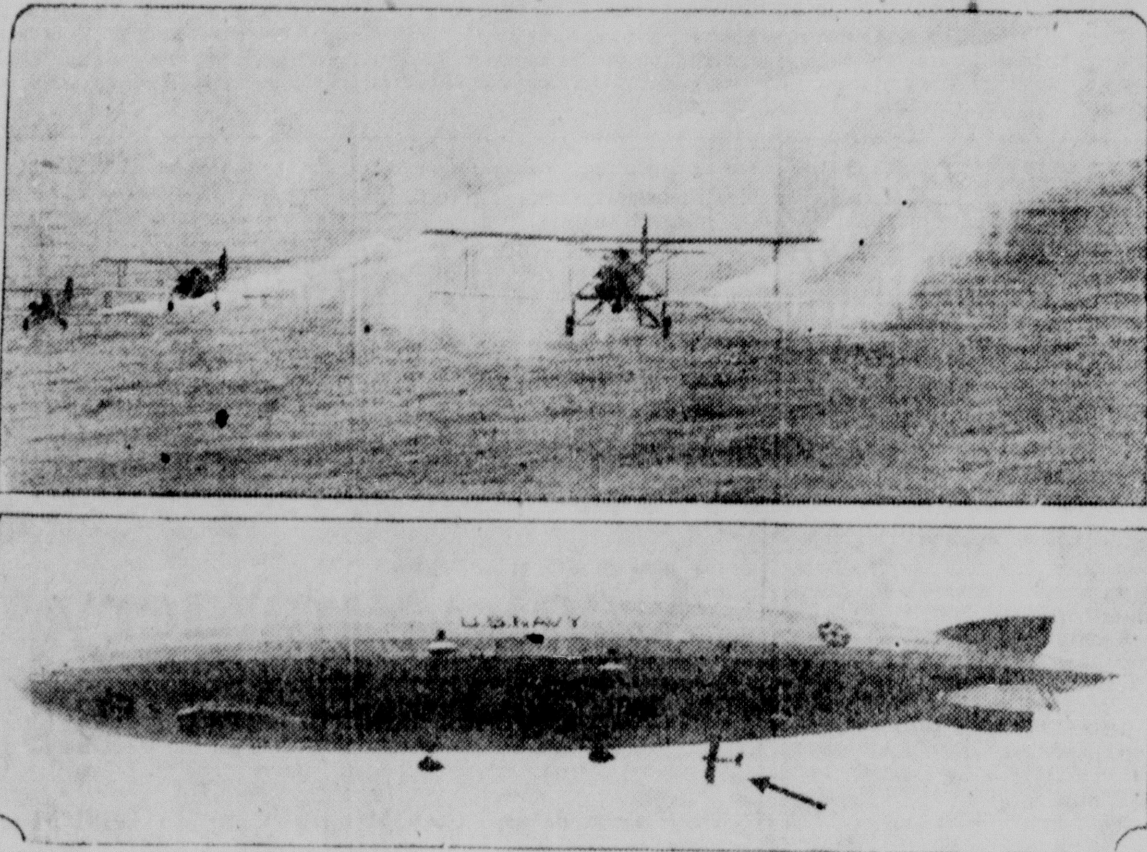

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon; W. J. Long West Brooklyn and Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives, Polo, C. R. Chobier, Ashton, G. R. Charters, Ambler, Archenbrenner, Drug, Compton, W. H. Hills, Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

The engineer of the locomotive, which was drawing a passenger train toward Reading, was killed, and the fireman and eight other persons were badly injured.

As U. S. Navy Performed for President

Here's part of the thrilling aerial pageant witnessed by President Hoover when he reviewed naval maneuvers off the Virginia Capes. Above you see swift navy pursuit planes laying down a heavy smoke screen for the protection of destroyers in the mimic warfare staged on the water below. Below is an unusual aerial picture showing a Vought observation plane, indicated by the arrow, just before it hooked itself onto the great frame of the dirigible Los Angeles in mid-air. It was the first time the feat ever had been done over the ocean.

JEWELRY WORTH $300,000 SEIZED IN POLICE RAID

New York Officers Uncover Alleged Gang of Jewel Thieves

New York, May 27.—(AP)—Jewels valued at $300,000 were in possession of police today as the result of a raid on a room in the Hotel Commodore in which a woman and four men were arrested. Brooches, bracelets and rings set with diamonds, rubies and other gems were seized.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney said he considered the prisoners to be members of an international gang of jewel thieves and the gems part of $1,000,000 worth of loot which they have taken in the last few months.

Lieutenant of Detectives Richard Oliver and Detective Daniel R. Ryan, who had been trailing one of the suspects for nine weeks, smashed the locked door of the hotel room yesterday and found the five sitting about a table on which jewelry was spread out. The most valuable of the 26 pieces was a ring set with an oblong diamond of 17 carats valued at $40,000.

As the detectives entered, covering the gang with their pistols, one of the men made a motion as though throwing something out of the window and the woman stuffed a slip of paper into her mouth and swallowed it.

The prisoners gave their names as James W. Watson, 40 years old; Hilda Sarter, 34; George Cole, 42; William J. O'Connor, 41; of Buffalo, and Jack Rosen, 38.

Amendment Revenue Section Awaits Action in Lower House

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Thirty-two bills looking to the financial relief of Cook county governments were before the General Assembly today and the revenue article amendment was still awaiting action in the house.

The perfunctory Monday session saw completion of the first step of the Strawn Citizens' relief Committee program, introduction of its proposal. The last seven bills to ease the fiscal tabulations of Cook county governments were introduced by Rep. John Lee, Dem., of Chicago. The first of the series of bills had been introduced on the opening day of the special session.

The House yesterday unanimously adopted a memorial resolution to the late Frank J. Quinn of Peoria. Mr. Quinn was a member of the 1920 Constitutional Convention and a State Committeeman of the Democratic party. The Senate transacted no business.

Walter J. Beebe, attorney for the Chicago Sanitary District, announced would confer with Gov. L. L. Emerson today on the district's request for authorization to issue $12,000,000 in bonds without a referendum.

GRAF PREENED FOR NEXT LAP OF ITS FLIGHT

Will Leave Brazil Tomorrow For Lakehurst Mast

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 27.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, 8,000 miles of its 18,000 trip behind it, was preened today for the next lap of its long voyage—the 5,500 mile trip to Havana Cuba, and Lakehurst, N. J. Departure was set for tomorrow with the exact hour uncertain. Meanwhile replenishment of fuel, lifting gas, ballast and supplies continued, while more than a ton of mail has been put into the dirigible for the long trip north.

The course to be set by the dirigible's master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, was uncertain, but it was believed that he would leave the coast about Natal and strike due north until 200 miles north of the mouth of the Amazon river, and then head northwestward for Havana.

From Havana, where the dirigible will remain but a short while, he will make a short cruise over the Bahamas, and then follow the North American coast to Lakehurst. Dr.

Eckener expects to be there by Sunday night at the latest, and to be back in Germany by June 9.

The South American llama, when angry, spits upon the person annoying him and, like our domestic animals, can deliver a mean kick besides.

RUDE AWAKENING

Tokyo.—(UP)—The march of progress in Japan has its drawbacks. Seven persons were sleeping in three houses in the Tsukijima district of Tokyo when a huge crane, being used in the construction of a nearby building, toppled over, crushing the three wood and paper houses like eggshells. Fortunately, however, the great steel arm was partially supported by guide wires and those asleep in the three houses, awakened by the crushing of the roofs, were able to escape injury.

FEEDING FARM WORK HORSES

By Lloyd Breich

Proper attention given to the matter of balancing rations for horses will result in benefit to both the health and the working efficiency of the animals fed, which in turn will effect a material reduction in the enormous annual feed bill charged against the horses of the country. Results in feeding a ration should be observed and the ration modified according to the age, size and condition of the horse. The amount and kind of work performed will determine the kind and quantity of feed to use. Generally speaking, combinations of home grown feeds constitute the most economical rations. In choosing a ration for a horse, select the one that seems to meet best his requirements, whether for growth, maintenance, work, breeding, or fattening; estimate the amount of feed needed and try out the ration. The benefits derived from grinding or crushing oats and corn for horses depend on the cost of preparation, working conditions and the condition of the animal's teeth. All small grains, such as rye, barley and wheat should be crushed before fed to horses.

Food stuffs are broadly divided into two great classes, proteins and carbohydrates. The protein feeds are rich in nitrogenous compounds which are used by the animal body in building tissue, bone and hair and to provide energy. The carbohydrate feeds are starchy in nature and are used by the animal body in the formation of fat for energy and heat. To obtain the best results in feeding the ration should be so balanced that it properly meets the needs of the animal in building tissue and supplying energy for work. Feeds rich in protein are usually the most expensive. If more protein is supplied than is needed for nutrition, the cost of the feed is unnecessarily increased. Thus for mature horses at work and for maintaining idle horses, the protein feed allowance may be limited to the amount necessary to build tissue, and a large proportion of carbohydrates may be fed.

GROWERSWARNED AGAINST INSECT DAMAGE TO CORN

Sod Webworms Causing Damage As Are Wireworms, Also

Urbana, Ill., May 27.—This year when corn could be planted early it is being damaged rather seriously by sod webworms and wireworms, according to a report to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois by W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History Survey.

Cutworms can be controlled by the use of poison bran bait, the formula for which can be secured from county farm advisers or from the survey headquarters here at Urbana, Flint recommended. The poison bait, however, is of no value against wireworms or sod webworms working on corn, he said. The best practice to follow at this time of the year when either of these two insects is damaging corn is to leave the first planting undisturbed and put in a second planting by straddling the rows with the planter. The first planting should be left as long as possible before being cultivated out. The wireworms or sod webworms will congregate on the first planting thus permitting the second planting to get large enough so that the pests will not injure it seriously after the first planting has been cultivated out. Sod webworms will continue working in the fields at least the first of June. Wireworms will continue working throughout the spring.

Wireworms injure the corn by boring through the planted seed and the young plantlet below the surface of the soil. Sod webworms cut off the corn at or just below the surface of the ground. They are brown and spin an irregular shaped web of silk about the hills where they are working. This silk is so mixed with particles of dirt that it can not be seen readily. Cutworms cut off the plants at or just below the surface but do not spin any silk around them in the hills.

Farmers in doubt about the kind of insects that are injuring their corn can have specimens identified by their county farm advisers or by entomologists of the Illinois State Natural History Survey.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago.—(AP)—The sharp decline in cattle prices up to May 12 led producers to hold back shipments, forcing a modest rally in the last day or two, the Prairie Farmer's market review said today. "Mature steers, yearling and she stock all participated in the upturn," the review said.

"While veal calves advanced 50 cents to $1.50, considering the extreme decline since last July, the market for finished grades may appear to be getting down to a sound foundation. With cattle from grass already showing up on some markets, prices for undergrades probably are headed for a seasonal decline to lower levels, with occasional mild upturns.

"Hog prices are still continuing the sideways trend which has been in progress for nearly two months. Receipts have declined slightly but remain about the same volume as in the previous six weeks.

"Lamb prices relinquished most of their recent $2 upturn on fed grades and spring lambs dropped to a new low level for the year. An increase in shipments was attracted by the bulge and arrivals of spring lambs from the southeast affected the Eastern trade.

"Inquiry for wool has broadened and spotted increase in demand has occurred with fine and quarter blood receiving most attention.

"Wheat prices rallied slightly in the last week, although a reason for a sustained upward trend is still lacking. While the official forecast of domestic winter wheat production was below expectancy, some reports indicate improvement in the last two weeks, word production still promises to exceed last year and the export activity which is badly needed to clear away some of the old stocks in the United States has not appeared.

"Prices of feed grains have had a partial recovery after following a downward course for over a month. Visible stocks of both corn and oats have shown good sized reductions in response to improved demand and lighter offerings when this lower level was reached.

"Fresh egg prices broke to a new low point for the season last week. Receipts failed to decrease as expected, reports from the country indicate that production is holding up under favorable weather conditions and some of the large hatcheries have discontinued operation so that a larger share of the fresh production in some sections is now coming to market. Sentiment generally is bearish and dealers are operating very cautiously.

"Butter prices suffered a sharp decline in the new season got underway. Production is showing the normal rate of expansion for the season and the extent of decrease under a year ago is shrinking. Stocks on May 1, totaling 22,948,000 pounds were the largest on record for that time of year."

UNDULANT FEVER HAS APPEARED IN NEARBY COUNTIES

Several Cases Reported In DeKalb And Ogle In Recent Weeks

Ashton.—Several cases of undulant fever have been reported in DeKalb and Ogle counties recently. One case is now being treated at the Glidden Memorial Hospital at DeKalb. This case originated at Malta as did one other case.

Another case was reported west of Rochelle, but has now seemingly recovered. Undulant fever, sometimes called Malta or Mediterranean fever, is one of the most serious maladies to be contended with in Illinois. It ranks next to tuberculosis in the state of Illinois.

There has never been a case of undulant fever in Chicago due in all probabilities to the fact that all milk sold in that city is pasteurized, which kills all germs of undulant as well as tuberculosis.

It was first discovered on the island of Malta in the Mediterranean sea, in goats but is now found in cattle and hogs. It may be contracted either from drinking the milk of an infected animal or through infection through a wound in the skin.

One case resulted from a farmer near DeKalb who cut himself with the butcher knife while butchering an infected sow. In animals the disease is known as contagious abortion.

Illinois maintains an Undulant Fever commission upon whose board Lloyd Arnold M. D., Alton S. Pope, M. D., Robert Graham, D. V. M., Henry Becker, M. D. V., and Thomas Hull, Ph. D. serve. An interesting booklet prepared by this commission is free to any resident of Illinois upon application for the treatise on "Undulant Fever," Cause, Transmission, Control Methods. Educational Health Circular No. 36 by the Illinois Department of Public Health at Springfield.

Medical authorities have as yet found no means of affecting a permanent cure of the disease which seems to be contracted largely by young adults, individuals under twenty rarely contracting the malady. At the outset, symptoms are very similar to typhoid, malaria, or tuberculosis. It is a disease of rural districts.

The Illinois peach crop was destroyed by the cold weather of last winter, and the strawberry yield is disappointing on account of dry weather and short acreage. Better prices will be realized, however, by those who have fruit to sell. Last year the strawberry deal lost money for many growers. The bottom fell out of the market when heavy shipments from nearly all producing centers flooded the channels of trade.

The quality of Illinois fruits produced will be above average this year, in Leeper's opinion, with favorable weather between now and harvest. He reports that spur blight has damaged southern Illinois apples to some extent, although it is still too soon to judge the extent of the loss.

New Plan Assures Fertilizer Supply At Muscle Shoals

By FRANK I. WELLER

(Associated Press Farm Editor)

Washington.—(AP)—The Rees plan for private operation of Muscle Shoals, adopted by the House Military Affairs committee in preference to the Senate-adopted Norris resolution for government operation, provides for a constant supply of 5,500 tons of fertilizer.

It still is a point of debate whether fertilizer would be produced as cheaply as under government operation, but the profit to the manufacturer is limited to 8 per cent.

A prescribed amount of nitrogenous plant food to be produced annually is to be set by the board of three members the President would appoint for consummation of the lease.

However, the proposed plan makes mandatory the manufacture of 10,000 tons of fixed nitrogen within three years and six months of the date of the lease and requires periodic increases as market demands justify.

In fixing a maximum production capacity, the leasing board would be guided by the amount economically adapted or susceptible of being made economically adapted to the fixation of nitrogen, if the reasonable demands of the market shall justify it.

The sale price would be computed on the 8 per cent profit, the cost of production including the rent paid to the government for use of equipment and 6 per cent on any capital invested by the lessee in improvements to existing plants or in additional plants used for the manufacture of fertilizer.

Preference in sales would be given first to farmers and cooperative organizations of farmers.

Protests Killing

Unlicensed Dogs

Waukegan, Ill., May 26.—(UP)—Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, former dancer and Good Samaritan to all dogs, sent a vigorous protest to the Waukegan city council today against their order to shoot all unlicensed dogs.

"It's cruel," she protested. "If people will only bring their dogs to the Orphans of the Storm (Mrs. McLaughlin's dog refuge near Deerfield) we'll gladly give them shelter."

The annual Waukegan drive on unlicensed dogs last year netted 500 victims.

WIDE RANGE OF FARM INCOMES SHOWN BY DATA

Iowa Report Reveals 4 Per Cent Pay Better: Data On 650

Ames, Iowa.—The range between high and low profits on farms whose operators completed records for 1929 was slightly greater than in 1928 and 4 per cent more farms made a profit in 1929 than in 1928, according to the summary of the farm business records for last year just compiled by farm management specialists in the extension service, Iowa State college.

The high farm last year showed a management return—income after interest on investment, all expenses and wages for the operator and members of his family working on the farm were paid—of $6,500 and the low farm showed a management loss of $4,100. In 1928 the high farm showed a management return of $6,200 and the low farm a management loss of $4,000.

Shows Management Income

The average management returns from the high one-fourth of the 650 farms where records were completed in 1929 was $2,135 and the average of the low one-fourth of the farms a management loss of $891. In 1928 the corresponding figures were $2,084 and a loss of $950. The average management return in 1929 for all 650 farms was only $560. The 1928 average was $458.

Four hundred and fifty farms or 69 per cent of the 650, showed a profit in 1929, while 250, or 31 per cent showed a loss. In 1928, 65 per cent of the farms showed profits. Farm included in this report are not representative of Iowa farmers, since the men keeping records are among the most progressive.

Where Spread Least

Both highest and lowest profit farms are in the north central cash grain district. The narrowest spread between high and low farms in any one farming district is in the north-eastern dairy district, where the high farm showed a management return of $3,000 and the lowest a management loss of $2,800.

In view of the fact that 40 per cent of the farms on which records were kept were in the north central district, which was the only district to show a decrease in income in 1929, the figures revealed by the 650 farm records may not be entirely representative of the comparison of farm incomes in 1928 and 1929. A more uniform distribution of farms might show a more favorable comparison with 1928 records, says J. C. Gallo-way, one of the farm management specialists.

Chicago—Promoter Nate Lewis of Chicago Stadium announced today that he has offered Young Jack Thompson, welterweight champion, a guarantee of $75,000 to meet Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., in a title bout here.

Endicott, N. Y.—Max Schmeling resumed training today for his heavyweight championship bout with Jack Sharkey at Yankee Stadium, June 12, after a one-day layoff. Schmeling planned to box two rounds against each of his sparring mates today.

Chicago—Otto Von Porat and Jack Gagnon, two of the hardest hitting present day boxers, meet here tonight in a bout to decide, among other things, who is the more popular heavyweight in Chicago.

Chicago Stadium officials predict an attendance of 15,000.

Von Porat will seek to retain his rating as the mid-west's leading contender for the heavyweight title and Gagnon wants revenge for a fourth round knockout he received at the hands of Otto a year ago. Both have called attention to their impressive knockout records and predicted an early ending of tonight's bout.

Wrigley Swim Draws Twins

Here are two reasons why the Fehr family of Detroit may leap into prominence as a result of the annual Wrigley swim marathon to be staged in August at Toronto, Canada. Edith, left, and Evelyn Fehr are the only twin sisters entered to date in the long swim in the cold waters of the lakes and rivers near Detroit to become accustomed to the hardships of marathon swimming.

Baseball Gossip

BY UNITED PRESS

Washington's amazing Senators and St. Louis' fast-stepping Cardinals continued to set the pace today for major league rivals as the 1930 pennant race approached the close of first quarter of the season.

Both teams extended their current winning streaks Monday. The Cards scored a 10 to 4 win over Pittsburgh for their eighth consecutive triumph and their 17th win in 18 starts. The Senators made a successful debut against the Yankees in New York and turned in their sixth straight win, 10 to 7.

Goose Goslin and Joe Judge featured the Senator's victory with homers off Vernon Gomez. In the fifth Goslin went to bat with two men on and hit his second four-base-blow and Judge again followed suit.

Effective relief pitching by Jim Lindsey gave the Cardinals their first win of the season over Pittsburgh. Lindsey relieved Willie Sherdel after the Pirates scored four runs and allowed only two hits in four innings.

Dazzy Vance turned in a 7 to 0 two-hit shutout against the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Robins held their runner-up position, half-a-game behind the Cardinals.

The Philadelphia Athletics celebrated the raising of their 1929 world championship pennant by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 5.

Cleveland took a double header from the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3 and 5 to 2, taking third place in the American League race from the New York Yankees. Wesley Ferrell held the Sox to 6 hits in the opening game and Clinton Brown allowed only 9 scattered hits in the second.

A five-run rally in the sixth, featured by Harry Hellmann's homer with two on, gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Jackie May gave the Chicagoans only 6 hits.

Whitlow Wyatt, Detroit rookie, pitched the Tigers to a 7 to 3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Wyatt allowed the Browns 6 hits, three of them in the first inning for two runs.

Rain kept the Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves idle.

One of Nation's Wealthiest Youths to Wed Society Girl

Both noted as ardent devotees of horse racing, John Hay (Jock) Whitney one of America's richest young men, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Altman of Philadelphia, soon are to be married. This is a new picture of the heir to the $191,000,000 Payne Whitney estate and his fiancée, taken at Belmont Park, Long Island. Last February young Whitney was discovered to have been working for three months as a buzzer boy for a Wall Street firm, running errands and delivering messages at salary of $65 a month.

The scholarships, of a value not to exceed $500, are offered by the Varsity Club, an alumni organization. The awards are to be on the following basis: scholastic ability and attainments, 50 points; qualities of manhood and force of character, 25 points; physical vigor as shown by interest in sports, 25 points.

At the same time announcement was made of a change in the university's policy toward the so-called blacklist of athletes who fail in a single subject, making it possible for such a student to continue to compete in varsity competition provided he is able to pass the bulk of his examinations.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God?—
James 4:4.

To the popular mind adultery has long been regarded as an offense against sexual purity, but in the light of the standards under consideration it is nothing more—or less—than a contemptible form of stealing—Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest.

KONJOLA MAKES WORK PLEASURE FOR YOUNG LADY

New Remedy Goes Right to Source of Ills and Overcomes Them in Easy Fashion.

MISS GERTRUDE GREGORY.

"For some time I lacked energy," said Miss Gertrude Gregory, 1115 Cleveland Ave., East St. Louis, Ill. "My appetite was poor, and indigestion bothered me even though I ate very little. I was tortured by gas, bloating, and I never enjoyed my meals. I felt fatigued by most of the time, and no matter how I tried, I couldn't rid myself of that worn-out feeling."

"I began to take this new remedy, Konjola. What a surprise it was to me when I began to regain my former appetite, and even though I ate much more than I had before, I was no longer bothered by gas pains or indigestion. After only three bottles an entirely new feeling came over me. I wanted to get up in the morning and work! When I get home at night now, I feel as if I could do another day's work without resting. I feel like a new person, and I am glad to recommend Konjola to any whose cases are similar to mine."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone. This is especially so if Konjola is given a fair trial and six to eight weeks is recommended as a fair test.

Konjola is sold and recommended by all the better drug stores in Dixon throughout this section.—Adv.

The Husband Hunter
© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE, jealous of her husband's friendship with Bernadine Lamont, leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to his secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, for consolation, who plays her part so cleverly that they soon become engaged.

Representing Natalie's return to her home, Alan leaves Bernadine, who is left alone and heartbroken, and she agrees to pay for the furnishings.

Alan's meeting with Natalie who brings her young sister, PHILIPPA, with her, leaves him hopeful but baffled as to her intentions. Because of his entanglement with Bernadine, Alan makes no advances to Natalie, and she believes that he does not love her.

Realizing his love for his wife, Alan goes to Bernadine and asks her to release him. Philippi refuses, and makes an appeal to his city and civility.

Bernadine, believing that Alan really loves Natalie, engages the help of her niece, ANDREW, to help him, and he goes back after a scene with Philippi. But with no explanations forthcoming, the girl is still impossible.

Bernadine decides they might do better if left alone and pleads housework. At a party given for Philippi, reflecting on the fascination of Bernadine's old sweetheart, she goes to Alan's office, and there meets Bernadine Lamont.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIV

BERNADINE was in a state of great agitation. She had come down to Alan's office in spite of Dr. Wagnall's orders that she spend the day in bed.

She was closeted with Alan in his private office when Natalie arrived, having an earnest business conference.

Philippi had sat, her eyes on the closed door, while she pretended to be typing something, fuming inwardly over the length of time Bernadine had been in there, until Natalie appeared.

Philippi looked up at her with malicious satisfaction. If she had to come, it couldn't have been at a more opportune time, the girl thought.

"Oh, good afternoon, Mrs. Converse," she said smilingly, and ceased her typing.

Natalie smiled back at her. She was a little breathless and flushed from hurrying, and from the pleasant anticipation of seeing Alan in his own office again. It would be like an echo from the past—from the days of their happiness.

Her excitement enhanced her beauty. Philippi was furiously conscious of her exquisiteness and of the fact that all eyes were upon her. The girls would be laughing up their sleeves at her, Philippi, she knew.

Her fury almost penetrated to the surface. It was bitterest gall to her to see Natalie there. Still she said, politely: "Mr. Converse is busy, but I will tell him you are here, if you like."

"Oh, no, don't bother," Natalie exclaimed, and took a nearby seat. "I'll wait." She picked up a magazine and opened it, for she too was aware that she was an object of general interest. It embarrassed her a trifle, for she guessed that these girls probably knew something of her marital difficulties.

She tried to think of more agreeable subjects—other office scenes—scenes that Alan had made, for instance. She buried her face a little lower over the magazine as she recalled the way he had laughed at her fear that someone would open his door and surprise her in his arms. And the more she had protested, the tighter he had held her and the harder he had kissed her.

It was a delicious pastime, living over those moments again. A vagrant thought, coming unobtrusively, remained in her mind as she sat there, and grew into a poignant longing.

She closed her eyes and let her self dream that it might come true. She would go through that door and Alan would fold her close as he used to do. He'd kiss her "bewitching chin," her "adorable nose," her "alluring lips," her "enchanted eyes."

Her lids flew open. Alan was at his door. She felt her heart go pit-a-pat. And then—she saw Bernadine!

Neither Bernadine nor Alan saw her. She might have been a gravestone, so suddenly still had she become. For the scene she was witnessing was a petrifying one, to her.

Plainly Bernadine was emotionally upset. Had they had a love scene? A quarrel perhaps? A knife-like pang shot through Natalie's heart. Had she sat out here dreaming in a fool's paradise, while actually the thing she was dreaming of was being enacted at that very moment with her rival in her role?

Suddenly, under the overpowering stress of her emotion, she closed her eyes, shutting out the blackness that rose before her. When she opened them again, Alan was standing with his hand on Bernadine's arm, speaking to her in low, soothing tones.

Natalie's imagination, inflamed as it was by her suppressed jealousy of Bernadine, saw in it a love-like touch. Then he took Bernadine's hands, holding them one on the other and gently patting the one on top.

Natalie could scarcely bear it; especially when Bernadine leaned against Alan, her physical weakness appearing to Natalie like a demonstration of her affection for him.

Alan went with Bernadine to the outer door. "You shouldn't have come out," he scolded her, but they had passed by Natalie and she did not hear. "If you'd just listen to me, Bernadine, you wouldn't have these losses."

"I know, Alan, but they came from the same source my luck came from, so how was I to know?"

"What's your broker for?" Alan grumbled.

Healed. Healed. Healed! Good for the feet. Sold everywhere by leading druggists.

To take me to the elevator," Bernadine suggested. She was smiling, but it was really necessary for her to lean on Alan.

Natalie watched them go. And slowly her lovely mouth became contorted as it had not been for months. She was standing when Alan returned, her head held high, a cold brightness glittering in her eyes.

Alan was close before he saw her. "Why, Natalie..." he began, then her expression warned him to stop. He divined at once that something was radically wrong.

His first care was to seek privacy for what he surmised was to come. He took her firmly by the arm. "Have you waited long?" he asked for the benefit of the office, quite forgetting that Philippi should have received some special thought. But how could he remember, with one of Natalie's tempers coming on, that he had told Philippi, to insure what peace he had, that he and Natalie had not become fully reconciled, even though they were living under one roof?

Philippi hadn't believed him, but as she saw him now leading Natalie, with seeming pleasure, into his private office, she was more than ever convinced that he had lied.

What happened in that office, after Alan closed the door, would have mollified her considerably had she witnessed it. For Alan and Natalie quarreled bitterly.

All her carefully built-up restraint vanished under the lash of her jealousy, which, now that she had let it go, whipped her into a veritable madness of passion.

Alan tried at first to explain, to tell her about Bernadine's heavy stock losses, to show her that it was only friendly encouragement that she had seen him offer Bernadine. But Natalie would not listen.

Natalie accused him wildly of this and of that. He did not deny any charges, and he said blither, blithering things in return.

Philippi, outside, keeping her back turned to the other girls, agonized under the suspense of waiting for something to happen. She consulted her watch every other minute. The time that Natalie stayed in Alan's office seemed to her interminable.

Natalie could scarcely bear it; especially when Bernadine leaned against Alan, her physical weakness appearing to Natalie like a demonstration of her affection for him.

IOWA PRIMARY FINDS FARM AID STILL BIG ISSUE

Republican Campaign In Neighboring State Debate On Tariff

Des Moines, Ia.—(AP)—Agricultural relief has bobbed up as the principal issue among the four candidates for the republican nomination for United States senator at the Iowa primary election June 2.

The winner will oppose Daniel F. Steck, first democrat to represent Iowa in the upper house of congress since before the Civil War. Steck has no opposition within his party at the primaries.

The republican campaign has developed largely into debate over the pending Hawley-Smoot tariff bill, with Rep. L. J. Dickinson supporting and Gov. John Hammill attacking the measure.

Frank J. Lund and W. O. Payne, the other aspirants, have revived demands for incorporating the equalization fee in the bill.

Dickinson, once dubbed "a hell raiser for agriculture" has insisted that an attack on the Hawley-Smoot bill is a repudiation of the president. Gov. Hammill, seeking promotion to the senate after six years as Iowa's chief executive, contends that opposition is not an issue of party loyalty.

Both Dickinson and Hammill have pledged support to the federal farm board.

Besides espousing the equalization fee, Lund, who was Senator Brookhart's campaign manager four years ago, has attacked Dickinson and Hammill as reactionaries.

Payne, an old time republican editor, has brought the world court issue to the fore.

Dickinson is the only one of Iowa's 11 republican representatives not seeking re-nomination. Three of the group have opposition within their party and seven will face democratic contests in November.

Three republicans are seeking the nomination for governor with a proposed state income tax as the principal issue.

DARROW EXPECTS CHANGE
Schenectady, N. Y.—(UP)—Clarence Darrow thinks the Volstead act will be repealed within the next five years. He said so while here for a debate on the prohibition question recently. The Eighteenth amendment however, will probably remain intact a little longer, he predicted.

NEW METHODS FOR LIP-READING
By Alice G. Bryant, M. D.
Boston, Mass.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

It is useful as it is timely to turn our thoughts to the hard of hearing. Our educational systems are adapted for hearing pupils, but with 3,000,000 hard of hearing pupils in our public schools, we must safeguard their development by providing and speeding up lip-reading.

Lipreading widens the scope of individual effort, and makes an enormous difference in results attained. We cannot afford to offer equal educational opportunities to every pupil and then fail to give every hard of hearing pupil the tool to work with. We can not afford the disastrous cumulative effects of only half educating the hard of hearing because we fail to prepare him to share the full educational advantages of our public school. We cannot afford to starve him intellectually.

There is no excuse for neglecting to test the hearing of all the school children or to overlook the value and use of lip-reading or to resort to medical examinations, treatments, advice and supervision. We need an open mind and more generous policy of efficient service and organization in these matters. We need to be less concerned about the exact cost of adequately training the hard of hearing pupils, and the education offered them ought long ago to have been looked upon as out-of-date, risky and unfair when it obstructs unnecessarily the efficiency and progress of the hard of hearing pupils.

Many such pupils, being untrained in lip-reading, fail or come perilously near to failure by having to repeat class after class. Such enforced repetition of work has been many times a hopeless business; involving large money outlay and slender returns in knowledge. Many of the systems of education in force today were made several years ago and they have not kept pace with the needs, difficulties and developments of the hard of hearing. We need a broad and comprehensive survey—a national survey of these needs.

Education should safeguard our hard of hearing pupils and should be subject to such revision by competent authorities as may be necessary from time to time. There are various theories in education, but the real test of their value comes in practical demonstrations and tried applications. We are collecting observed and recorded facts, supplementing them by thought and speculation, and we should for an education that shall be of equal utility to the hearing and hard of hearing pupil, and that shall give each child full freedom of development for his constructive progress and security. Lip-reading has given a marked demonstration of its individual adaptability and of its elasticity of purpose and action. It is for public sentiment to secure its wider adoption.

JULIA WARD HOWE'S BIRTH

On May 27, 1819, Julia Ward Howe, American author and reformer noted for her Civil War poem, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," was born in New York City.

Although the poem made her famous and won for her the honor of being the only woman elected to the only woman elected to the American Academy of Arts and Letters, Mrs. Howe was one of the most active and versatile personalities of her day.

She advocated prohibition, preached occasionally from Unitarian pulpits, was one of the organizers of the American Woman Suffrage Association and was a zealous worker for prison reform, for world peace and other humanitarian movements.

Mrs. Howe wrote the "Battle Hymn" at the request of James Freeman Clarke, who went with her and others to visit an army post near Washington. She heard soldiers singing "John Brown's Body" as they returned from skirmish, and while the wounded were being carried to their pallets, she was inspired to write her poem.

FROST HURT APPLES

Seymour, Ind.—(UP)—Heavy frost and below freezing temperatures have dimmed prospects for a bumper apple crop in this vicinity. Gardeners believe strawberries and most early vegetables have been killed. Tomato plants were injured badly, but can be replanted, delaying the crop, however.
